OUR MULTIPLE IDENTITIES

Rev. Diane Teichert with Ken Redd and Carol Boston, Worship Associates, Dayna Edwards, Director of Religious Exploration, the Chalice Dancers and the Choir and the Choir

The life and times of Reverend Dr. Anna Pauline "Pauli" Murray, J.S.D. will serve as a guide as we look at the ways in which we all have multiple identities, to at least be acknowledged if not celebrated. This is the 2012 Auction Sermon, won by Carol Carter Walker. A "Reverberations on Race" will take place during Enrichment Hour in the Religious Exploration building.

FINDING IDENTITIES IN OUR FOUNDING

Rev. Diane Teichert with Bettie Young, Worship Associate

Looking back, what can we see in the founding, at this time of year in 1954, of our congregation on the campus of the University of Maryland-College Park as an outgrowth of All Souls, Unitarian in DC and what would we hope to see by our 60th Anniversary? During Coffee Hour, the Board of Trustees will host a "Deck Party" to celebrate its refurbishment! Newcomers are invited for informal conversation with the Minister in her office from 11:30 to 12:30.

A JOURNEY OF A THOUSAND MILES

*Guest Preacher Doyle Niemann with Jonathan Mawdsley, Worship Associate
And the Choir*

Long-time activist and public servant Doyle Niemann, PBUUC member, will reflect on making Unitarian Universalist principles and values relevant in the real world (see page 6 for a bio). The Special Collection will be taken for the PBUUC Tutoring Program (see page 9 for details).

OCTOBER 27

ARCHIVAL REFLECTIONS: HOW MOVING IMAGES MOVE US

*Rev. Diane Teichert with Criss Kovac and Polly Pettit
With Carol Boston, Worship Associate, and Special Music by Keith Miller, Pianist*

We will honor Samhain as the service begins, and for the sermon join a film preservationist and a film researcher, both PBUUC members, in an exploration of the ways that moving images shape our experience of history, our identity and our legacy (see page 6 for bios). It is also Signing Sunday – for those who are ready to sign the PBUUC Membership Book, meet the Minister and Board member at the chalice after the service. Starting during Coffee Hour, a Fall Fest, hosted by the Religious Exploration Committee, for one and all!

Tell a friend, neighbor or co-worker how much PBUUC means to you and invite them to come with you one Sunday!
Before the Internet, churches grew by word-of-mouth. It still works!

The Minister's mUUsings...

Have you ever wondered how I choose my sermon topics?

For seventeen years since my ordination in April 1996, my sermon topics have arisen in the same eclectic way. But, starting last month, I've modified my approach.

What hasn't changed is this: I draw sermon ideas from my own experience and needs as well as from what I know of my congregants' experience and needs; from congregational life and from the wider Unitarian Universalist movement; from current events, public issues and books I've read; and from the "wheel of the year" including seasonal, religious, cultural, and national events and holidays – being careful to not misappropriate from non-UU traditions yet wanting to include them. Sometimes, I get an idea from a song or dance that's been chosen for the Choir or Chalice Dancers (more often, it goes the other way around, sermon topic first). I try to include at least one topic from science, though it is not my strong suit.

Also, in September, I have always aimed for sermons that are especially accessible and informative for newcomers. In October, I try to include either Samhain or Dia de los Muertos, and for November there is the obvious theme of "Gratitude and Sharing." For the winter holidays, I always at least touch on Hanukkah but really highlight the Winter Solstice, leaving Christmas for Christmas Eve rather than making it the focus of endless weeks mirroring American consumer culture. While I am always away with my family on the Sunday after Christmas, I appreciate our Diversity Anti-Racism Transformation Team (aka DARTT) for providing a Kwanzaa service on that weekend in recent years.

For me, the Sunday of Martin Luther King Weekend is a "high holy day," as is Earth Day. The Sunday nearest Valentines Day used to be reserved for the promotion of marriage equality, but now I may return to using it to embrace or defend evolution in honor of Charles Darwin's birthday on February 12th. While I don't think that Black History and Women's History should be reserved for February and March, respectively, I often provide a related service during each of those months. Our PBUUC Stewardship Drive is always kicked-off in March, which requires a special service. I like to be present for the Dance, Choir, Youth-led and "RE Sunday" Services although my roles are minor, if any, on those days.

What is new: is that the year is divided into four "arcs" and each one provides an over-arching – or perhaps it's undergirding – theme for that period. It may not even be that noticeable to you, but these arcs are helping me to be more intentional. For September through November, we are exploring questions of identity, starting in September with UU Identity. From December through March, the arc is compassion and justice and from April through June the focus is on the Earth and our environment. In recognition of the inherent variety during the summer months, the theme then will be explorations.

The idea of arcs and these particular themes are experimental. The Worship Associates and I will evaluate and will welcome your observations as time goes on.

Hoping to see you on Sunday mornings... all year long!

Diane

Newcomers Gathering with Diane in her office on Sunday October 13 from 11:30 to 12:30.
Child care provided in Room 5.

Wheel of Life

Our hearts go out in to Brenda Anna, whose mother died on Saturday, September 21. The memorial service for Carol Ann Kimbell will be held in the Meeting House on Thursday morning, October 3 at 10 am. Donations of finger foods, sweet and savory, and help with setting up, serving and cleaning up will be appreciated by the We Care Coordinators, Esther Nichols or Genie Van Pelt.

In September's Branches, we noted the sorrow of the death on August 10th of Charles Tompkins, Pat Tompkins' husband. His memorial service will be held in the Meeting House on Sunday, October 13 at 3 pm. Help with the reception to follow will be organized by the We Care Coordinator for October, Allison Hughes.

Our hearts go out to Michel Léger who has been in Illinois visiting with his mother who is in hospice care.

Mary Dancy sends out her appreciation for the many cards she received from caring members of the congregation.

Congratulations to Mike Stark and Sonja Meredith who were wed on August 8.

Congratulations to Carolyn Byerly and Kay McGraw, whose marriage was celebrated with many PBUUC members present, on September 21 in the Meeting House, with Diane officiating.

Regarding flowers...

On Sunday, September 15, a joy was shared by Iris Peabody thanking "the person or persons who occasionally bring and arrange flowers" for Sunday services. The editor wishes to let everyone know that one person who does so frequently is Sharon Werth, director of the Chalice Dancers.

... We would also like to ask that whoever planted the gorgeous yellow mums in the planters at the entrance to the newly refurbished deck to please identify yourself so that you can also be thanked!

Our Caring Community

The We Care Coordinator for October is Allison Hughes. If you or a congregant you know is in need of (or can provide) rides, meals, cards or visits, please contact her at allisonih@gmail.com or 301-864-1889. Also, contributions of finger foods, savory and sweet, and offers to assist in the kitchen, will be needed for the memorial service for Charles Tompkins on Sunday, October 13. Please contact Allison if you can help.

Are you seeking a way to get to know your congregation better? Do you like to help others and have some time to phone or do email? Consider becoming a We Care Coordinator! This ministry provides practical help to congregants in need by matching their need with those who have previously indicated their willingness to help others out in that way. We have lists of volunteers for specific tasks, such as bringing a meal to a shut-in or to a recently bereaved (or blessed with a new baby) family, or giving someone a ride to the doctor. You would be responsible for matching needs and helpers for a month, in a rotation of every three or four months. In addition, the We Care Coordinators meet with the minister once every six weeks or so; the meetings are held in the daytime on a weekday, scheduled to be convenient for all. Please talk with Diane, or one of the current We Care Coordinators: Allison Hughes, Genie Van Pelt and Esther Nichols if you might be interested.

SUNDAY NOTES — Parking Problems

The good news is that we run out of parking spaces on some Sundays! The bad news is that we run out of parking on some Sundays! Especially Sundays when the choir sings.

If you are the first to park in an area, to conserve space, please park at its edge. If you are able, please park in the farthest locations to leave the closer ones for those less able or encumbered with children or supplies.

Other parking locations: across the street at Hillhaven Nursing Home (but be careful crossing), on the service road that parallels Powder Mill Road (there's a path through the brush to our parking lot), and on Boredale Drive behind the RE Building (access from Boxer Road or Cherry Hill Road).

Board of Trustees ColumnThe Board Beat, October 2013:

First, we would like to note the success of the Involvements Fair and thank all the groups involved. If interest and enthusiasm are any measure we remain an active community on the rise. While there were a very large number of our Committees and Activities represented one very popular spot was that representing the Ethic Dinners Group. With samples available from their upcoming Greek dinner, plus tastes from previous dinners, the area seemed to have a constant crowd. While there were displays inside, the majority were on our newly repaired deck in absolutely perfect weather. We greatly appreciate all the labor provided by the congregation that has maintained the deck as it slowly declined for the past decades. We certainly hope that all this enthusiasm represented at the Involvements Fair combined with some realignment of effort away from deck repair will provide chances for increased participation in other rewarding and important Church functions.

At the recent Board of Trustees Executive Committee meeting the topic of participation in the UUA and JPD Fair-Share Funding was discussed in depth. The JPD is the regional organization and the UUA the national organization that connect us to the rest of our Denomination, and provide collective services that we cannot provide ourselves. Paint Branch had provided our full Fair Share to these critical organizations for many years, but has provided only token participation in recent budgets. Due to our improving year-over-year budget situation, this year's token amount is five times as large as the past year, though still minimal.

As you are all aware, the vast majority of our funding comes from pledges, and the majority of the rest is from rentals. We now are fortunate to also have two lessees in the RE Building, but the total income is still below our historical averages. JPD and UUA rely on our provision of funding for their very existence and they are under many of the same financial stresses our congregation and families have been under for years. As a reminder, a full Fair-Share contribution to both JPD and UUA amount is $87 per member, and with slightly over 200 members that adds up to almost $18,000.

Having just closed this year's budget and amendment process, we want to begin to highlight our inability to make our fair-share payment to the broader congregation and we are open to new ideas. It is imperative that we begin to plan to raise adequate funding for our share for the Denomination's funding, and we think that every PBUUC member and friend would agree.

Religious Exploration

What stories do you tell yourself about change? Is change exciting or frightening? Is it empowering or paralyzing?

Recently, I made a big change in my personal life. I decided to drastically change my diet. Eating refined sugar and grains was just making me feel bad. So, I decided to completely cut out the foods that were making me feel bad. I didn't put a day on my calendar to "start" to change. I just woke up one morning and said, I'm ready to start feeling good. My goal was not to lose weight, but to feel good, have more energy, and have more mental focus. I found a plan online, developed by nutritionist, to help me through this major life transition and I have been following the plan for about 2 weeks. During this transition time, as I "learn the ropes", I have made an agreement with myself not to modify the plan, but to try it as the experts have laid it out and see what happens. So far, the results have been fantastic. I have more energy, I am more mindful about my eating habits, and I have fewer cravings for unhealthy foods. The keys to my recent success in my food journey have been:

Setting achievable – positive – goals. (A goal of losing weight comes from a negative frame of mind and creates feelings of lack and resentment.)

Following a plan created by an expert.

Being a mindful observer of my feelings during the change.

The recent changes I have made in my personal life have made me think about all of the changes that are happening to the PBUUC RE program. We are starting the Spirit Play curriculum in the pre-k and elementary age classes. We are re-invigorating the middle school and high school programs and hiring a Youth Coordinator. We are adding Camp Beagle (an evolution-based summer camp) and a Dance Party/Barbeque called "Loving Day Summer Kick-off Party". Your RE Committee is the impetus for these changes, I – as your DRE – am just the facilitator of these changes.

Using the three "keys to success" that I outlined above, I am confident that PBUUC can navigate these changes successfully:

Set achievable – positive goals: The RE Committee has created goals for the children and youth in the RE program and is currently working on outreach goals and volunteer goals. See the website for the updated RE goals.

Follow a plan created by an expert: Using resources from the UUA, LREDA, GWAREC, the JPD and from people who have done what we're trying to do we can facilitate a healthy transition. Before we make changes to a curriculum, we must trust the experts who have developed these resources.

Be a mindful observer of our feelings during the change: It is normal to have a variety of feelings during a big change. Let's name those feelings, and acknowledge them. Let's allow healing to take place as we bear witness to our negative feelings and allow our positive feelings to guide us and empower us. I want to hear how you're feeling about all of these changes, and so does the RE Committee. Please make an appointment to meet with me or come to an RE Committee meeting.

Arbitrary and outwardly-imposed change can seem scary, threatening, and even unnecessary. However, if change is desired and embraced by an individual or group, the process of change itself can be transformative for everyone involved.

Lao Tzu is credited with saying, "Life is a series of natural and spontaneous changes. Don't resist them; that only creates sorrow. Let reality be reality. Let things flow naturally forward in whatever way they like." As we continue to change and grow at PBUUC, let's remember his words, and "let things flow naturally forward."

Director of Religious Exploration

The Fall Festival will be held on October 27 during Enrichment Hour. The RE Committee invites children - and grownups - to wear costumes and celebrate the turning of the seasons with games and treats. Weather permitting, we will hold the Fall Festival outside on the deck with a labyrinth in the Glen. If the weather is bad, we will be in the Kelley Room.

Meet October's Guest Preachers

On October 20, we welcome PBUUC member Doyle Niemann to the pulpit. He is a member of the Maryland House of Delegates representing the 47th District, which borders the Northeast DC and Montgomery County lines. He is a former member of the Prince George's School Board, the Prince George's Democratic Committee and the Mt. Rainier City Council. When he is not in legislative session, Doyle is an Assistant State's Attorney for Prince George's County, where he specializes in prosecuting fraud and white collar crimes. Prior to law school, he worked in journalism and public relations, including serving as Director of Corporate Communications for the ULLICO family of companies, a union-owned enterprise, and for a variety of nonprofit, advocacy, research and journalistic enterprises in Maryland, Illinois and Georgia. Raised a Lutheran, he became a Unitarian Universalist student leader in the late '60s. He and his wife, Karen Morrill, have been members of PBUUC since 1990. They have three grown children.

On October 27, our minister will be joined in the pulpit by two PBUUC members:

Criss Kovac is the head of the Motion Picture Preservation Lab at the National Archives and Records Administration. Over the course of the last decade she has overseen preservation projects including Nine From Little Rock, A Year Toward Tomorrow, With the Marines at Tarawa, The Negro Soldier, Let There Be Light, and most recently The March, documentary of the 1963 March on Washington. She is currently working on the digital restoration of Eva Braun's home movies. She is an active participant in multiple moving image professional organizations and in creating technical guidelines for archives, libraries, and museums. She holds degrees from Oberlin College, The Nottingham Trent University, and The L. Jeffrey Selznick School of Film Preservation. Criss and her husband, Peter Kovac, joined PBUUC in 2008 and have two young daughters.

Polly Pettit is an independent researcher, using the work of archivists, motion picture, sound and video collections. She has done film research on many documentary films for American and international television, among them The Perilous Fight: America's WWII in Color and Victory in the Pacific for PBS. Other credits include With All Deliberate Speed, the first theatrical documentary release by the Discovery Network; The Century: America's Time, an 18-part series; and the feature documentary The U.S. v. John Lennon. Polly's work has been nominated for five Emmy Awards. She and the research team on Declassified: Nixon in China won an Emmy for research in 2005. Most recently, she received an Emmy nomination for the PBS film Jesse Owens. She is currently researching a seven-part series on the Vietnam War for Ken Burns. Polly and her husband, Peter Dowling, have been PBUUC members since 1990. They have one grown daughter.

Meet Our New Members

Before visiting PBUUC, new members Carolyn Byerly and Kay McGraw drove by the church often, and loved seeing welcoming symbols out front, noticing in particular the signs about marriage equality when the issue was being brought to a vote in Maryland. They first visited in the fall of 2012 and became members on April 28, 2013. On September 21 of this year, after being together 29 years, they were married at PBUUC! Carolyn has had lifelong involvement in social justice issues, and is currently a Professor in the School of Communications at Howard University. Her work focuses on minority and women's media ownership. Kay is interested in environmental issues, including climate change and global warming. She works for NOAA as a zoologist/marine biologist. Kay and Carolyn enjoy sharing their home with their dog Torii, a one-year-old Samoyed. Please join us in welcoming them to Paint Branch!

Beth Charbonneau and Deron Lovaas became members of Paint Branch on May 26, 2013. They have lived in the area since 2003 and after having their daughter Joy, who is now in first grade, they decided that they wanted to join a church community as a family. Deron is passionate about the environment and works on transportation policy. Beth is a therapist and enjoys bicycling and spending time outdoors. Joy's many interests include singing and reading. They love the people, choir and minister at Paint Branch, and Joy thinks Mr. David (our music director, David Chapman) is awesome! Welcome, Beth, Deron and Joy!

Diversity/Anti-Racism Transformation Team (DARTT)

Pre-K to Prison Pipeline Seminar Related to the New Jim Crow

Black and Hispanic students represent more than 70 percent of those involved in school-related arrests or referrals to law enforcement. Upon release from correctional facilities, these young men return to the neighborhoods, schools, and families that are often less equipped to meet their needs, and to a labor market that continues to undervalue their work and potential. The conversations during this symposium describes the problem, but also addresses prevention, rehabilitation, and strategies for successful engagement of boys of color so that the Pre-K to Prison cycle can be broken.

Five Paint Branchers— Nathalie Legerwood, Tricia Most, Janet Overton, Lucette Smoes and Carol Carter Walker— attended the September 9, symposium Pre-K to Prison Pipeline: Improving the Odds for Boys of Color. This event was organized and sponsored by the African-American Studies Department of the University of Maryland, College Park.

There was an overwhelming turnout with standing room only at all sessions: The attendees included teachers, administrators, academics, graduate and undergraduate students, politicians and some high schoolers. The size and diversity of the group indicated the serious impact of this phenomenon and the interest in developing strategies to counter the trend.

There were four one-hour sessions from academics on their relevant research and a 90-minute panel at the end of the day, followed by a reception. The event culminated with a reception. Summaries of each of each of the panelists' research and a webcast of the entire day can be found on links at the following website: www.aasd.md.edu

Diversity/Anti-Racism Transformation Team (DARTT) Monthly Meeting Tuesday, October 1

DARTT's next monthly meeting will be Tuesday, October 1 at 7:30 pm in Room 4, Religious Exploration Building. DARTT's major focus is to create a safe space for members of the PBUUC community to talk about issues of race and ethnicity by personal sharing; and by sponsoring services, events and activities designed to facilitate the congregation's implementation of its commitment to intentional multiculturalism. Our major topic will be DARTT's role in next steps in the implementation of our congregation's multicultural journey. All are welcome. If you can't attend, you may send your input to DARTT@pbuuc.org

REVERBERATIONS IV

The Race Card Project Reverberations Continue!

"Everyone enjoys some privileges. In what ways are you privileged - by educational achievement, gender, race, social class, professional status or ...? How does privilege affect your relationships with others?"

On Sunday, October 6, 2013, during Enrichment Hour in the Kelley Room, Muriel Morisey and Peter Wathen-Dunn will again facilitate a straight-forward give-and-take discussion to foster our congregation's multiculturalism posing the above questions to participants.

This is the fourth in a series of congregational discussions that began on June 30 with the Diversity/Anti-Racism Transformation Team's worship service titled "In Six Words: The Race Card Project," which presented a range of experiences, questions, and observations related to race and identity. The congregation's response during the Enrichment Hour Reverberations that followed was encouraging and heartening. Only by exploring our attitudes and beliefs concerning race, class, sexual orientation, age, etc., can we address and eradicate ideas and behaviors that keep us from being consciously and genuinely multicultural. Please come and be a part of this effort to discover how we can create emotionally safe environments for talking candidly about who we are, what we truly believe, how we relate to each other, and how we become stronger as a church family. For questions, email DARTT@pbuuc.org

Diversity/Anti-Racism Transformation Team Notes: Inclusive Gospel Singing Workshop Saturday, October 19 At The Unitarian Universalist Church of Silver Spring

UUCSS presents an inclusive Gospel Workshop led by UU Musician, David B. Smith, Saturday, October 19, 2013. Workshop: 10 am-3:00 pm Rehearsal for Sunday (optional): 3:30-4:30 pm at the Unitarian Universalist Church of Silver Spring, 10309 New Hampshire Ave, Silver Spring, MD 20903 (www.uucss.org)

As part of UUCSS' multicultural growth initiatives, renowned Gospel musician David B. Smith will return to UUCSS for an uplifting and transformative Saturday workshop and Sunday morning worship. This year's program will explore the theme of "Revelation" from a UU perspective. All are welcome, regardless of experience or musical ability!

David is Associate Music Director of the 1,800-member All Souls Unitarian Church in Tulsa, Oklahoma. His unique musical contribution to the UU movement has proven highly valuable in outreach and growth.

Workshop participants are invited to sing in a mass choir on Sunday, October 20 (services at 9:30 and 11:30 am) Cost for the workshop is $30 ($20 Senior/Student). A light lunch will be available for $10 if (ordered by Thursday, October 17. Online registration: www.tinyurl.com/DSmith2013 For more information, contact residency@uucss.org

Social Action Committee (SAC) News

Thank You to the Board of Trustees for New Funding Budgeted for Community Café and Warm Nights! SAC's new Board Liaison, Melody Lawrence, had good news we shared at our SAC meeting on September 21, 2013. With a new rental lease recently signed for Paint Branch, the Board was able to budget $1,700 for Community Café and $1,216 for Warm Nights. Neither had been in the earlier budget for this fiscal year. Both programs benefit the homeless and underemployed in our area. For Community Café - every month, on the fourth Tuesday, five to seven Paint Branchers provide a hot lunch to fifty to over a hundred mostly day laborers. We participate in this program with other church and county service groups at the Hyattsville First Methodist Church - where hot lunches are served four days each week. Esther Nichols is our Paint Branch coordinator for Community Café. She would welcome more volunteers for this important program of social service we have done at Paint Branch for many years! For Warm Nights we provide overflow housing in our Meeting House for one week, usually in late January, to help the homeless as part of the Prince George's Hyperthermia Program. This is a church-wide effort with many Paint Branchers, our staff, and our various committees and affinity groups joining together to host a warm and welcoming place for our guests that week. Dinner is served, along with breakfast and a bag lunch for them during the day. Shower nights have been arranged, as well as washing clothes at a laundry facility. This year's coordinator is Sabrina Finlay with assistance from Rene McDonald. Thanks again to the Board for helping to fund this most deserving of programs - so we are not dependent only on a December holiday special collection as in the past.

The Widening Wealth Divide in the United States Emerges as a Priority Issue for SAC in the Spring Survey of Congregational Issue Rankings. It came in second after our new tutoring program. SAC is discussing how we can learn more about this issue that can lead to advocacy actions to take in cooperation with other groups. For example the new film of former Labor Secretary Robert Reich, Inequality for All, comes out on September 27. It relates directly to the growing income gap in the United States and its implications for the health of our economy. Additionally on Thursday evening, October 17 from 7 - 9 in Arlington a forum entitled "You Need a Raise! Fighting Growing Income Inequality and the Policies That Foster It" is being sponsored by the Fairfax County Democratic Committee and co-sponsored by the Unitarian Universalists for Social Justice - which Paint Branch is a member of. The forum will be at 4301 Wilson Blvd, Arlington, VA 22203 in the offices of the National Rural Electric Cooperative Association. Some SAC members are planning to attend the forum. Contact Nancy Boardman for more information and if you are interested in working on this important issue.

The 2013 Social Justice Awards Gala is on Sunday, October 20, 2013 at 5:30 in Bethesda at the Positano Ristorante. This annual gala is sponsored by the Unitarian Universalists for Social Justice and the OpenDoor Housing Fund. It is a lively and uplifting evening of well-deserved awards to selected UU churches for a variety of areas such as affordable housing, immigration, economic justice, LGBTQ, Journey Toward Wholeness, lifetime achievement award, and others too. Our own DARTT team was a proud recipient of an award in recent years! Flyers about the Gala are in the lobby. The cost is $75 with payment by October 11. For details, registration, and payment go to www.uusj.org. Also you can contact info@uusj.org or call 202-600-9132. Part of the funding supports UUSJ Social Justice Grants. We hope many Paint Branchers will share this special evening with fellow UUs from our area churches. You're sure to have an enjoyable time!

The Greenbelt Walk to Help the Homeless is also on Sunday, October 20, earlier at 12:30. We have been invited by the Mishkan Torah Synagogue to join this community effort to raise awareness and funds to help those in need of shelter. Registration is at 12:30 on site at Mishkan Torah at 10 Ridge Road in Greenbelt, MD. From there we walk at our own pace starting at 1 pm around Greenbelt Lake in Buddy Attick Park. Each one who registers offers a warm night to one of the nearly 12,000 homeless people in our region. All funds go to the local non-profit Community Crisis Services, Inc. To learn more about CCSI visit www.communitycrisis.org. And to learn more about this event e-mail socialaction@mishkantorah.org. This is an excellent way for us to meet others in the interfaith world as we work together to help the homeless. And a walk around the Greenbelt Lake does not take long either - perhaps 45 minutes. Plenty of time to go home and change for the Social Justice Awards Gala in Bethesda at 5:30 if that is also in your plans!

PBUUC TUTORING PROGRAM

Paint Branchers Train For New Tutoring Program, Field Trip, Special Collection

Saturday, September 14, twenty-two PBUUCers were trained as teacher/ tutors for our new tutoring program. Shirley Thompson, founder of the All Souls UU Church's ESL program, spoke about cultural awareness, how to use items from real life to teach vocabulary and how to use various devices to teach spoken English. Additionally she demonstrated and reviewed the Intercambio Interactive English materials and other teaching resources that will be used.

We are currently arranging a field trip to All Souls UU Church to see their ESL program in operation. It runs on Sunday afternoons from 1:15 pm-3:15 pm. This year it is starting up on October 6, 2013, so our trip will be after that date.

On Sunday, October 20, the special collection will benefit the PBUUC Tutoring Program. It will be used for teaching materials and books for students. Checks should be made payable to PBUUC, with "Tutoring Program" noted in the memo.

Getting to Know UU

A class for newcomers and anyone wanting to know more about Unitarian Universalism and PBUUC
Saturday, October 26 from 1 – 4 pm
In the Meetinghouse - with our Minister

You will learn about the journey of Unitarian Universalism: from its long-ago roots to how it evolved in the United States as it is today – in relation to your own personal religious journey, with ample time for getting to know other participants and about their journeys.

And, you will meet a representative few of our congregation's leaders, learn how it is organized and how to get involved according to your interests, passions, gifts or personal goals - in activities that sustain the congregation, serve the community, or change the world.

Light refreshments will be served - Childcare will be provided if requested by October 20. Suggested reading: A Chosen Faith, by John Buehrens and Forrest Church, is available for sale ($15) in the foyer or to borrow at the class; it also may be purchased at <http://www.uubookstore.org/>. Interested? Please contact the PBUUC office: 301-937-3666 or churchadmin@pbuuc.org.

Buildings And Grounds (BAG)

SATURDAY BEAUTIFICATION DAY OCTOBER 12

Saturday October 12, 9 am to 3 pm. Come one, come all. Join in the beautification of the meetinghouse, RE building, church grounds and parking lot. Come for as much or as little time as you can to improve the beauty of our surroundings. Pizza will be served at noon. This is your chance to get a free physical workout and be rewarded with the instant gratification of your achievements. Contact person Lowell Owens, Chair, Buildings and Grounds committee, lowellandmarge@verizon.net or 301 345 1572.

The Wider Unitarian Universalist Universe

Dear PBUUC congregation:

When was the last time you did something that changed your life? That's what the UU College of Social Justice invites you to do: plunge in and let yourself be transformed.

Our service-learning journeys will open your eyes — and your heart — to new dimensions of the human yearning for justice. The calendar of upcoming programs, as well as detailed descriptions, are available on our website.

Check out these upcoming trips and register today!

- * Help Haitians build a future — house by house — as you work with people displaced from Port-au-Prince by the 2010 earthquake. Dates: December 7–14, January 25–February 1, March 15–22, and May 10–17
- * Visit Chicago and learn from restaurant workers how powerful it is when consumers and workers band together for fair wages. Dates: April 29–May 3
- * Travel to Chiapas, Mexico, and see how small dedicated communities are building alternatives to the agribusiness that affects both sides of the border. Dates: December 4–11

In all of our service-learning journeys, you will not only learn about these struggles for justice — you'll find new ways to join in. And that can change your life. Visit our website to join one of our transformative journeys and to learn about our Youth Justice Trainings and summer internships with partners around the world. You won't see the world the same way when you come back home.

Sincerely,

Rev. Kathleen McTigue, Director

REWARD

Music Notes

The first concert on the Music at Paint Branch series was a wonderful success. Barbara Brown, cellist and David Chapman, pianist presented a sonata recital that was one of the best ever at Paint Branch. Please remember the next recital on the series featuring Lu-Hsuan (Lucy Chen), soprano and David Chapman, pianist on Sunday, October 27 at 4 pm. As always, the program is free, but donations are happily accepted. A reception will follow. Plan to attend with friends and family for an exciting musical treat.

HOUSE BAND UPDATE!

We now have a pianist and a drummer! We need an electric bass player with good rhythm and adequate reading skills. A tenor sax player would be very cool, also.

Members, spouses or friends of Paint Branch are welcome to contact David at cochap@msn.com or 240-602-4121.

The important Event: November 9, 2013 aUUction 2013

Come, come, come to the Great NEW PBUUC aUUction, 7 pm, Saturday, November 9 and sing along to the familiar phrase "Going, going, GONE." Our aUUction 2013 is new, but "Going, going, gone" will be the familiar words you'll hear as we sell and earn money for PBUUC. First: we'll have a professional auctioneer to generate excitement when we collaborate to make aUUction 2013 the best one yet.

What can you donate? Popular items are vacation spots, dinners (bar-b-cues, picnics, wine tastings), particularly theme dinners, and services: things you can do for others, e.g. babysitting, transportation, shopping, reading. And don't forget things like maybe that easy chair is the wrong color, or the like new electric frying pan that you never use. How about gift certificates from your favorite merchant, and the list goes on.

What would you like to buy? Will you tell us some things you would like to purchase if they are offered at the auction? Would you like to go on a hike, or birdwatching? A history tour in DC?

See you Saturday, November 9 at aUUction 2013.

Penny O'Brien, publicity

A Call For Business Donations

The 2013 aUUction Business Team is looking for businesses that you support during the year to ask them for donations of products and services. We are also looking for members and friends who would like the opportunity to publicize their own businesses by advertising in the 2013 aUUction program.

If you have a business you'd recommend, please provide us with the contact information; i.e., name, manager, telephone number, recommendation for donation (cash, service, product); and whether or not we can use your name in our solicitation. If you want to deliver your own letter, we can provide you with one. If you want to purchase ad space in the aUUction program, please provide camera-ready copy (you can use your business card). The deadline for submission is Sunday, October 27. For rates, letters or other information, contact Marj Donn at marjmdonn@verizon.net or Carol Carter Walker at carolcarterwalker@earthlink.net.

ART HAPPENINGS: Our current artist, exhibitor is Sunil Sukla, an immigrant from Bangladesh. He says, "My life has been enriched with very interesting experiences in diverse climates, cultures, environments and with various kinds of people. In my paintings, I bring to life my observations of such aspects of life in a daily context e.g. a rickshaw passing by a crowded city street or a lone farmhouse surrounded by snow for miles."

This is a very diverse show. There are watercolors, acrylics and mixed media pieces on display. You may be surprised that all are by one man. Information on the different paintings can be found in the box on the left pillar at the back of the meeting house. If you are interested in a purchase, please contact the artist.

Welcome Home Party for Kathi Yu

Friday, October 4 from 6 to 8 pm

About six years ago our long time member, Kathi Yu, began a new career with the U.S. State Dept. as a Foreign Service Officer. She was sent to China for two years, then to Mexico, and on to Haiti. Three new languages were involved. Now she will be in Washington for two years. Kathi is the daughter of Penny O'Brien, who served in Dominica with the Peace Corps. All are invited to meet Kathi in the Kelley Room in the RE Building, for the first time or to renew a long friendship. Come for good food, good music, a chance to hear Kathi talk about her time abroad, and a little information about our UU United Nations Office. A main dish will be provided but pot luck salads or desserts will be appreciated. We hope people will bring their kids. Please contact Marge Owens on lowellandmarge@verizon.net or 301-345-1572 if you will need child-care.

SINKS & DINKS Multi-Age Event

Are you excited for the next Ethnic Dinner, but need more than just one evening of Greek food? Are you planning to cook a dish for the Ethnic Dinner, but you have no idea what it's supposed to taste like? If so, come join SINKS & DINKS in a multi-age event as they attend the 2013 Greek Festival on Saturday, October 12. The festival is taking place at the temporary location of Saints Constantine and Helen Greek Orthodox Church, 15109 New Hampshire Avenue, Silver Spring. The group will meet in the parking lot of Paint Branch Unitarian Universalist Church at 3:30 pm and caravan to the festival. For more information about the festival, check out <http://www.schgoc.org/events/297> If you would like to join us, or if you have any questions, please contact Kathy Kearns at kkearns@hotmail.com or at 301-277-3211.

Lunch Group Branching Out

The Third Wednesday UU Lunch Klub will eat together on Wednesday October 16 at 1 pm at the Old Line Bistro in Beltsville. This fairly new restaurant and bar has plenty of room and a neighborhood atmosphere once you have found a path through the acres of beer, wine, and liquor. It is located at 11011 Baltimore Ave. at the intersection of Route 1 and Powder Mill Road in the space that was occupied by Circuit City for many years. Parking is not a problem! Prices are marginally above our norm but the food is especially good, especially the soups, appetizers, salads, and desserts. The north side of the building is now occupied by Atomic Music. Enter by way of the old main doors and proceed forward to the eating area, We hope anyone who is free between 1 and 3 this day will join us. If you need a ride or can provide a ride for someone please contact Marge Owens on lowellandmarge@verizon.net or 301-345-1572.

25 YEARS OF ETHNIC DINNERS ~ ALPHA TO OMEGA

With the next Ethnic Dinner, Saturday, October 19, at 6:30 pm, we will be observing a quarter century of Ethnic Dinners at Paint Branch! Our first dinner was Greek, so this one will repeat that theme. Take a minute to put that on your calendar, but be sure to come right back and get the rest of the details!

Usually, when a Branches article has to be submitted before the menu meeting is held, I'm unable to tell you what's on that menu. The difference this time is, several people have already, not just suggested dishes, but said they'll cook them! So, based on suggestions, offers to cook, and knowledge of what prevailed at our two previous Greek dinners, you can probably expect Taramosalata (you tasted that at the Involvements Fair), Triopetes, Spanokopita, Tzatziki, Salata Exohico, Moussaka, Avgolemono, Stifado, Dolmathakai, Baklava, and many more dishes yet to be chosen. If you're familiar with these, you are already salivating; if you don't know what they all are, aren't you dying to find out? Some are vegetarian, some vegan, none of them "spicy", and once the full menu is created, we can discuss other issues such as gluten, lactose, and nuts.

Twenty-five years, sixty-three dinners – we've eaten a lot, learned a lot, and had a lot of fun doing it. But none of it could happen or can continue to happen without a lot of help – usually 25 – 30 volunteers. Cooks are essential, and those who enjoy cooking and learning new dishes are urged to sign up. You choose the dish, we give you the recipes, and will reimburse the cost of the food. Don't cook? There are plenty of other tasks. We need people willing to come early (5 or 5:30) to set up tables. Remember, when folks complained because the dinners started at 7:30, so we changed to 6:30? Surprise; the earlier start time requires earlier set-up! Mike Stark has been doing the bar and overseeing set-up for a long time. He'll still do the bar, but wants to do some cooking too, so we need someone else to take the lead on set-up. It's all written down for you, and there'll be others to help; just come early and do it! We also need early-comers to set the tables (tablecloths, napkins, etc.) and someone at 6 to tend the door, checking people in and accepting payment for reservations. During the dinner, appropriate music is important. If you can "collect" (ie, find, download, record, etc) a varied selection of Greek music ("Zorba", "Never On Sunday", etc.) in a format compatible with our sound system, you're exempted from any other task! And when it's all over, we need two clean-up crews – one for the meeting house and one for the kitchen (including someone who knows the dishwasher), and finally, a few people to take home tablecloths to launder.

Tickets, still only $15 per adult (less for kids), will be available following services on October 6 & 13, at which time you can also see the full menu and sign up to help. And remember, this is a great event to bring friends to. If you are a newcomer and received a coupon for a free dinner, exchange it for your ticket at this time so we know you're coming. Wonder what we do with all that money? Be at the dinner and see our new purchase for Paint Branch!

Have any questions, need to make a reservation, or want to help in some way? Contact Marilyn Pearl at buffalo_gal@verizon.net or 301-805-1218. Reservations can be taken until mid-day Tuesday, October 15, but that evening I must call the cooks with a final head count.

Reflections on Reverberations About Race

Muriel Morisey and Peter Wathen-Dunn

After facilitating three Enrichment Hour Reverberations we are gratified that many in the PBUUC community are engaged in conversations about race. Some participants came to all three sessions, others to just one or two. We estimate that, between those who attended the summer Race Card Project Service and those who participated in the Enrichment Hour discussions, approximately 50 members of the church community have participated in our evolving exploration of race.

Participants in the Reverberations told moving stories about interacting with people of other races. We heard about racism they experienced or observed while growing up. People of color told of painful experiences with racial slights and insults that continue today, even within the PBUUC community. They were listened to with caring concern. We also heard about courageous decisions to fight racism.

The Enrichment Hour discussions focused on 1) The Race Card Project: each person's six words about race; 2) the importance of emotional safety; and 3) early awareness of racial differences. Each discussion was structured to make sure everyone got to speak at least once. We began with a brief reflection from each person on the questions posed in advance of the session. After that, anyone could seek recognition and speak directly to another member of the group. The resulting conversations were infused with candor, mutual respect and caring.

"Reverberations IV" on Sunday, October 6, will address the impact of privilege in its many forms on personal interactions.

We hope other more informal conversations about race will happen in the future throughout the church community.

Widowed Persons Support Group

Several members of our congregation have recently become widowed. There has been an ongoing discussion of the possible need to form a support group for widowed persons. Jeri Holloway has volunteered to facilitate such a group in the beginning stages. If you are interested, there will be a meeting on Sunday, October 13 during Enrichment Hour in Room 4, when we can discuss topics of discussion, goals, times and dates of meetings, etc. Please attend and bring you ideas and thoughts. We need suggestions of topics for discussion, goals and meeting day and location. Hope to see you there.

Substance Abuse 101: A Pastoral Care Approach

Presented by Bharati Patel and The Chesapeake Pastoral Care Network. Saturday, November 2, 2013 from 10 am to 3 pm, at Paint Branch Unitarian Universalist Church – very convenient!

In this four-hour training, we will discuss a definition of substance abuse, drugs of abuse, factors in addiction, and the impact on families. Through role-play and group discussion, we will learn how to approach families and talk with them, and how we can best help them access services when they are ready. This training is for congregation-based Pastoral Care teams, those who may someday want to be a Pastoral Care Associate, interested lay leaders, ministers, and Recovery assistance providers. Friends and family members of those suffering from substance addiction are welcome to attend.

$20 a person includes lunch - be sure to indicate dietary requirements at registration; Congregations are urged to send teams of 3 or more, though all are welcome. Register by October 29 at jpduua.org; email minister@accotinkuuc.org for more info. You may register without lunch for $10 if you specify in advance. Same day registration available without lunch ($10). Scholarships available; apply at administrator@accotinkuuc.org.

Bharati Patel has more than 20 years of experience in substance abuse counseling and over fifteen years of experience with mental health assessment and crisis work. She has undergraduate degrees in business management and teaching and a graduate degree in counseling from the Catholic University of America.

Couple Enrichment Groups

Over the years many PBUUC couples have strengthened their relationships by joining with other couples in Marriage Enrichment Groups. Such groups of four to six couples, meet monthly to share experiences and learn from other couples using well tested guidelines from the non-profit, non-sectarian, national organization "Better Marriages". Barbara and Don Fairfield, a certified marriage enrichment leader couple assisted by Steve and Kathryn Leete, marriage enrichment group members, will describe these groups to interested persons during Enrichment Hour on Sunday, November 3.

Nature Spirituality Circle

Samhain Ritual: The Nature Spirituality Circle will hold a Samhain Ritual on Saturday, October 26 at 6 pm in the Glen with potluck to follow in the Kelley Room. This ceremony will include an invocation to the Morrigan, and a walk through a labyrinth. The labyrinth will remain in place until after enrichment hour on Sunday for anyone to walk.

Spirit of Life Center

www.pbuuc.org/solcc 301-937-3666
 Paint Branch Unitarian Universalist Church
 3215 Powder Mill Rd. Adelphi, MD 20783

The Spirit of Life Center welcomes individuals from the local community to practice enriching activities through a variety of classes and workshops that are designed to promote a better quality of life, health, and connection with others

CHANGING DIRECTION DOES NOT HAVE TO BE DIFFICULT!

“The intuitive mind is a sacred gift and the rational mind is a faithful servant. We have created a society that honors the servant and has forgotten the gift.” --Albert Einstein

The Spirit of Life Center is devoted to bringing our inner and outer mind into harmony with each other through our Breath Awareness Practice, Quality of Life Workshop, and Simplicity Circle Workshop, starting October 7, 2013. These programs will help you to take baby steps towards becoming a healthy, happy, and loving person. You can be a role model for your family and community. Read these descriptions of what to expect in these workshops and decide for yourself whether these workshops can be the start of your evolution:

“Your breath anchors you to life. Being aware of your breathing will make you aware of your life”

Breath Awareness Practice: by Raman Pathik

Saturday 10 am - 10:30 am

Another way of looking at your breath is as an inner light house to guide you back to the present moment. The goal of breath awareness is to allow you to spend as much of your life in the present as possible, instead of the future or the past; staying on the path of the now is the road that leads to happiness.

Quality of Life Workshop: by Raman Pathik

Saturday 10:30 am - 12 pm

What does "quality of life" mean to you? Develop a blueprint to implement better habits that will improve the balance in your life. Experience connecting with your true self, nature, your family, your community, your finances, your body, and the world.

Simplicity Circle Workshop: by Simplicity Matters Earth Institute

Saturday 12 pm - 1 pm

Simple living is about making conscious choices about what you do with your time, your money, and your energy. Simple living is about mindfulness, not deprivation. Simple living is about focusing your energies on what you personally consider important, and improving your quality of life as a result. Six sessions following the workbook.

Each one of these workshops is a comprehensive six-week program taking place on Saturdays from 10 am to 1 pm at Paint Branch Unitarian Universalist Church. For more information, contact Raman Pathik at 301-890-9072 or email solcc@pbuuc.org. A special suggested donation of $50 covers all three workshops for six weeks. The Simplicity Circle workbook is an extra $28.

Class sizes are limited; RSVP required.
